ONE PAGE THIS WEEK

What a lovely day World Book Day always is here at Thurlstone! The children and staff always enjoy a day of dressing up and of focusing even more than normal on reading and all things 'books'.

Meet our Peer Wellbeing Champions!

As part of our whole school Wellbeing strategy, these children have been trained by the wonderful practitioners from Compass Be and will work with Miss Brown to raise awareness of mental health and wellbeing across school. They have decided to start with a small fundraising campaign - more information about this to follow!

VACANCY

We are still on the look out for a new dinner time supervisor! If you would like to know more, please contact the school office - you will be talked through the role and if you are interested you will be provided with an application form. Applicants will then be shortlisted and subject to an interview and DBS check.

Closing date is 8th April

Unfortunately, due to school budget pressures, we will be increasing our after school club payments after easter to £6 a session and £3 a session for children who are in receipt of benefit based free school meals.

Thank you for your understanding.

Friday's Cheesy But Wise

Words of Wisdom

Feeling stressed or anxious? Helping others has been shown to activate the rewards area of our brain and reduce stress. Altruism can be a powerful tool to enhance mental health!
