We are often asked, 'what can we do to support our child's learning at home?'

There are many answers to this, and I am sure you are all already doing lots and lots! One of the main things is read, read and read some more. Children who read are much more likely to be successful in their learning. They are likely to more creative and imaginative as well.

This one may sound obvious, but talking and having conversations with your children is also key to so much learning. Playing together - another obvious one! Children need to play and interact with people of all ages - this helps them learn and practice positive and fulfilling social interaction skills and helps them develop positive relationships with their peers and others.

Supporting homework also helps to reinforce vital basic skills, but the above will also help more than you know!

NEXT PTA MEETING!

Tuesday 1st October 2024

Come help us plan how to raise the funds the school DESPERATELY needs whilst delivering great experiences for our children, families and the local community, and providing support however we can.

School budgets no longer add up, and help is now needed for basic expenses as well as the fun stuff - so we need to step up our game!
